

LEO FRANK TAKEN FROM PRISON AND LYNCHED

Removed to Within Sight of Mary Phagan's Home and Hanged

MARIETTA, Ga., Aug. 17.--Leo Frank, serving a life term for the murder of Mary Phagan, the Atlanta factory girl, was taken from the prison farm at Milledgeville last night and lynched by an armed party. Frank was taken in an automobile 100 miles from the prison farm to a spot in sight of Mary Phagan's home and hanged. No shots were fired. The body was barefooted. He had on only his prison trousers. The body was found at 8:30 at the roadside. Crowds gathered and left the body hanging for hours. Superintendent Burke of the prison farm at Milledgeville said: "I was called to the door just before retiring. Two men grabbed and handcuffed me, four held rifles at my head. They marched into the penitentiary building, others cutting the wires. All were masked. Frank was torn from his room, and dragged by his hair down the stone steps without an outcry. The mob was silent, but determined. It rushed the prisoner to the automobile and left."

MUNITION MAKERS TO HAVE SHORTER HOURS

(By Associated Press.) BIRMINGHAM, Eng., Aug. 17.--Throughout central England there has recently been a slackening of the pressure upon workmen to put in excessively long hours at munitions work. It is also announced that brief holiday periods of from two to four days will be granted at intervals of about two months to men and women who are putting in practically seven days a week. The explanation is that workpeople began to show signs of "fag" under too constant employment at the bench or machine, and the directors of the factories decided it would be in the interest of future output to sacrifice a few days now and then.
